Description: This one-and-a-half-story side gable Craftsman bungalow has a projecting gable roof entry porch on the northern side of the house that is supported on two square wood-cased columns resting on brick masonry piers. The centrally placed entry doorway is flanked by two original wood-sash tripartite windows with upper leaded-glass transom lights. The house is sheathed with cedar shingles with a 2"-over-7" exposure, and the eaves and bargeboards are supported by knee brackets.

Cultural Data: This house and its occupants seem to have been involved in several freak accidents: in 1925, Ben Barrow (1891-1975), owner of "High Class Plumbing & Heating," was at a filling station when an intoxicated driver plowed into his car, critically injuring the gas station attendant; in 1940, the garage was ignited by two boys playing with firecrackers; and in 1976: Mr. & Mrs. Paul Skorniakoff suffered $21,000 in damages when Fitzpatrick's Appliance Store around the corner burned at the hands of an arsonist. The house was for sale in 1952 for $11,900.
